

Amendments to the Abstract

Replace the abstract with the following replacement abstract:

For producing a fire-resistant veneer or material composite having different core materials {4} without adding salts or other commercial fire-retardant materials, ~~according to the invention~~ liquid is drawn out from the pores of the veneer {1} by heat treatment and is replaced by resin, and the veneer is, if required, subjected to a refining process.

For the examiner's convenience, a clean text version of the replacement abstract (49 words) is presented below:

For producing a fire-resistant veneer or material composite having different core materials without adding salts or other commercial fire-retardant materials, liquid is drawn out from the pores of the veneer by heat treatment and is replaced by resin, and the veneer is, if required, subjected to a refining process.